Education of SDGs in the Wider Community: University's Extension Services Office

Benguet State University is a Public Higher Educational Institution that envisions to be an international university. Thus, it is committed to empower communities in enabling them to appropriately improve their quality of life. Extension is among the inherent function of the University. It endeavors the provision of quality & client-responsive extension services through a wide range of disciplines and administration of multi-agency & multidisciplinary initiatives a& Strategies.

The Office of the Extension Services \(OES\) has 3 divisions – 1) training and outreach; 2) technology piloting, demonstration and commercialization; and 3) technology packaging, publication and information. Through its 7-point Agenda (HERALDS): 1) Holistic Entrepreneurship & Livelihood Support Services, 2) Education & Information Trading, 3) Responsive Technology Promotion & Rural Advisory Services, 4) Advocacy & Policy Support, 5) Linkage, Networking, & Partnership, 6) Development Delivery Support & Training Services, and 7) Social & Resiliency Services; the University is able put into realization, the SDGs. Thus, this provides the avenue for the faculty, researchers, extensionists, among others to educate the communities including farmers, local government officials and employees, alumni, and other stakeholders/clients about the importance of the different dimensions of sustainable development and SDGs.

All the research centers of the University provide education and capacity building through seminars, trainings, workshops, and others which are very much aligned to the SDGs.

○ BSU-On-Air Teleradyo Program

○ The program has been empowering various stakeholders for 25 years now. It is being aired during weekdays from 5:45 a.m. to 6:00 a.m. in one of the biggest radio stations in Baguio City and the Province of Benguet. This is seen as an opportunity to educate the people not only for farmers but also for homemakers, children and even professionals. The program hopes to extend updates on agriculture-related information, education, health and other topics that affect or improve the lives of the people. It also aims to bring the University closer to the clientele by updating them on the different programs and services available aside from the dissemination of technologies and information on different fields.

○ The program is also streamed on BSU-OES Heralds facebook page: <https://rb.gy/jvlzuc>

○ Community Capacity Building Program

- Aside from the Extension Services Office, the Research Centers of the University also provide education ~ transfer of knowledge and skills development to the community
